Description

ATLAS is one of the leading European manufacturers of construction chemicals. The company was set up in 1991 and within a few years became a leader on the market of construction chemicals. ATLAS is commonly known and appreciated - over 80% of Polish people recognise its products. Thanks to ATLAS products, which facilitate and accelerate building, its users convinced themselves to modern ready-to-use construction mixes. ATLAS also created from the bottom up a strong brand, listed among the most valuable Polish brands. ATLAS is the owner of 22 production plants and 5 raw material mines located in Central Europe - they allow to face all the expectations of the customers. Present production capacity reaches the level of 10,000,000 tons of products manufactured a year. Advanced R&D department is not only preparing new product recipes, but also meets the requirements of the customers and adjusts the materials to local market expectations. The ATLAS Integrated Management System consists of three complementary subsystems: the quality management (ISO 9001:2008), environmental management (ISO 14001:2004 + Cor 1:2009) and the management of occupational health and safety (BS OHSAS 18001:2007) strengthened by the ISO 26000 standard. ATLAS has been engaged in the fulfillment of the sustainable development rules for many years. The aim is to offer modern building materials which can be used in construction of warm, comfortable and safe objects. ATLAS strives to make its products conformable with the highest quality standards, highly durable and widely available for any consumers due to broad distribution and competitive price. Simultaneously, it takes care of the production aiming to minimise the influence of any manufacturing processes onto the environment in order to make it as nature friendly as possible. Atlas offers wide range of technologically advanced construction materials used in any type of building projects - residential, public access, industrial, etc. Main product groups are: • adhesives for tiles, grouts, sanitary silicones • primers, cleaning and protective agents • mortars additives • self-leveling screeds and floors • ready-to-use building mortars - masonry, plastering, repair mortars • damp proofing systems • renders and external thermal insulation systems • paints • gypsum products • bitumen products • roofing membranes
