The RE stone-marble company works with Italian marble which has enjoyed great popularity among construction masters since time immemorial. In the area called "Versilian district" in Tuscany is located the Apuan Alps mountain range, where marble has been mined and processed for thousands of years. We can find here more than 49 types of marble from 9 basic families and it is consistently high quality, polishable and gorgeous natural stone, known as the "Carrara marble". Whatever the client's vision might be, we find a way to realize it. The phrase "it is not possible" is not in our dictionary but we certainly do not try to defeat the nature. We pay attention to the construction and artistic aspects of the raw material because we do understand the stone and respect its naturalness.

Our services include:

- extraction for a specific order
- proposals of technical realizations
- production at the mine site in Italy
- transportation to the place of destination
- supervision anywhere in the world
